Moscow International Education Fair is:

- a popular event in education with more than 50,000 visitors
- large-scale educational exhibition—over 20,000 square meters
- major educational forum with more than 1,000 events

The Fair's central focus is the New Educational Ecosystem.

Participants:

- Russia's federal and regional executive agencies
- Foreign ministries, departments, and educational organizations
- State and non-governmental educational organizations of the Russian Federation
- Businesses dealing with the production of hardware, software, learning materials, equipment, furniture, and other products for the educational sector

The Expert Board is created to form the MIEF Program. Candidates to join the Expert Board are offered by the members of the MIEF Organizing Committee. The list of experts to form the Expert Board is then approved at the Organizing Committee session.

Visitors (more than 50,000):

- Education managers, educators, and education specialists from Moscow and the Moscow Oblast, as well as other regions of Russia and CIS, and international community
- Heads of corporate universities and training companies, HR professionals
- Employers, business representatives
- Students, including those with limited health capacities, orphans, and children deprived of parental care
- Parents and children's statutory representatives
- Journalists

For businesses, educational organizations, and for a wide range of visitors, the Fair is ready to offer:

- A ground for business interaction between manufacturers, suppliers, and customers
- Information on the educational products and services
- Promotion of the world's best practices, and presentation of the best Russian and international expertise in education
- Provision of cooperation between corporate and nongovernmental educational organizations and state education sector
- Demonstration of toolkits and technologies used in educational systems

- Assistance in building approaches to professional identity, vocational guidance to start a successful career, and personal routes when visiting the Fair

The Fair consists of 8 clusters. The principles of the MIEF clusters' development:

- Each cluster includes an exhibition space, a business program, and special projects
- A cluster consists of state agents, business representatives, as well as representatives of professional community, educational organizations, non-government organizations, students, and their parents and statutory representatives
- A cluster may be developed by several organizations—the organizers of the Fair
- The clusters cover the ecosystems of all educational areas, educational communities, and the interactions between them
- The professional community defines the key themes of the clusters, which are then approved by the MIEF Expert Board and presented both in the exhibition and in the business program of the Fair
- International partners participate in the clusters in accordance with their areas of interest
